 - b. Teams that reserve 8 players will not be given any additional draft picks in the PREFARD.
- B. The reserves deadline will be a staged deadline with ramifications as described below:
 - 1. If the initial deadline is met, a team will not be subject to any sanctions and may change their reserves up until the final deadline.
 - 2. If the initial deadline is missed, the offending team will be fined 5 beanos per day late.
 - 3. The final deadline will be set approximately one week after the initial deadline. If the final deadline is missed, the offending team owner will be considered to have dropped out of the league.
 - 4. If an owner missing the final deadline still wishes to participate in the league, they may re-join in one of two ways:
 - a. They may submit their reserves, without them being included on the Reserve List, and draft in the PREFARD at their pre-determined draft position as long as their full entry fee is paid along with their late fee prior to their drafting, and prior to the end of the PREFARD.
 - b. They may re-enter the league as an expansion franchise under the rules for expansion provided they pay double the league entry fee.
- C. Once the final reserves deadline has passed, the commissioner will create and share the Reserve List.
- D. The Sid Number for the season will be communicated when the Reserved List is shared. It will be based on the number of teams that reserved players; however, the Commissioner reserves the right to adjust the Sid Number based upon the number of expansion teams expected.

 - 2. 17 to 26 teams expected in the league: Sid Number = 2
 - 3. 27 or more teams expected in the league: Sid Number = 3
- E. Beginning in July, the PREFARD will take place.
 - 1. The draft order will be determined first by round of the Johnson Cup Playoffs achieved the prior season and then by regular season record from the prior season.

- a. The draft order will be “worst to first” with the team finishing in the lowest position the previous season drafting first, and the team finishing in the highest position (the defending ESFFL Champion) drafting last.
 - b. The standard tiebreakers found in Section 7G2 will be used to determine draft position.
2. The base PREFARD is one round, with each team getting two selections per round.
- a. The first selection is any one player from the Reserve List.
 - b. The second selection is any one player from the Non-Reserve List. This includes all rookies and all players not reserved by any team.
 - c. A player, on either list, can only be drafted one time, except for players on the Reserve List who are on two or fewer rosters than the Sid Number (For example: If a player was reserved by just one team, and the Sid Number =3, that player can be drafted twice.)
 - d. A team may draft a second player from the Non-Reserve List in lieu of a player from the Reserve List.
 - e. Team defenses are eligible to be drafted (both from the Reserve List and the Non-Reserve List depending on which list they appear).
 - f. Teams cannot draft players they reserved.
 - g. The two players selected in the PREFARD are added to the team’s roster to give each team 10 total players following the PREFARD. These 10 players will have an assigned salary of $1,000,000 each (thus effectively not counting against the salary cap).
3. The first half of a team’s league entry fee will be due at the time their PREFARD picks are due.
- a. Teams not submitting the first half of their entry fee on time will be passed over in the draft.
 - b. Whether a team is passed over in the draft due to not submitting their entry fee on time, or simply due to not submitting their pick, they will be allowed to submit their pick as soon as the first half of their entry fee is received.
- F. Following the PREFARD, salaries will be determined for all players on the Non-Reserve List.
1. Those players drafted as Free Agent/Rookies will have a salary determined based on their draft position as defined in Table 1.
 2. Free Agent/Rookies not drafted will have their salaries scaled to an Adjusted Salary. The Adjusted Salary will be determined as follows:
 - a. The top 5 undrafted players at each position on the Non-Reserve List will have their salary adjusted to $3,000,000.
 - b. For all players outside of the Top 5 at their position, their Adjusted Salary will be determined by multiplying their Default Salary by $3,000,000 and dividing by the Default Salary of the fifth highest salaried undrafted player at their position or $3,000,000, whichever is larger.

1. Initial Rosters are due to the Commissioner approximately 10 days prior to the start of the NFL season at a date and time determined by the Commissioner.
 2. Should a team be late in submitting their initial roster, they will be fined according to the following schedule:

 - b. 1 to 2 hours late = 2 beanos
 - c. 2 to 4 hours late = 3 beanos
 - d. 4 to 24 hours late = 4 beanos
 - e. 24 to 28 hours late = 5 beanos
 - f. 28-48 hours late = 10 beanos
 3. At the discretion of the Commissioner, teams submitting their roster on time, but with errors, will not be subject to fines or other sanctions provided they make the appropriate corrections in a timely manner and are not viewed to be taking advantage of the rules.
 4. If a team which has paid their initial dues has yet to submit their roster 48 hours after the deadline, their roster will be completed by another member of the league as appointed by the Commissioner. The team selecting the roster must be a team which is not scheduled to play the offending team during the regular season.
 - a. If more than one team is interested in temporarily managing the offending team, the commissioner will grant other ESFFL owners, which meet the above criteria, control of the team on a week-by-week basis based on the order in which they express interest.
 - b. The offending owner will have until the Wednesday following Week 3 to reclaim control of their team by submitting the entirety of their accrued debt to the league including the remainder of their entry fee, their fine for late submission, and the cost of any free agent moves incurred to that point.
 - c. Should the offending team not submit their accrued debt by the Wednesday following Week 3, they will forfeit their initial 30 beano entry fee, plus any other funds they have submitted to that point, to the final pot and will be officially exonerated from the league. The team will continue to be controlled on a rotating basis by interested and eligible league members as appointed by the Commissioner. Any debt or winnings of the team in this situation will be deducted or added to the final pot.

5. Once all rosters have been received and approved, the Commissioner will email the league membership at large to inform all teams of this status.
6. Teams that have submitted their roster on time will have the ability to make changes up until the final deadline which will be approximately 8 days prior to the start of the NFL season.

 - 4) If a team fails to drop the necessary players to meet the 20-player roster requirement, the player(s) they added in the lowest round(s) will be dropped by default to ensure a 20-player roster maximum.
 - d. Following the pre-season waiver period there will be a first come, first serve free agent addition period.
 - 1) Players dropped following the pre-season waiver period cannot be added during this first come, first serve period.

 4. If an ESFFL Regular Season is completed, but if the ESFFL Post Season is shortened or cancelled completely, entry fees will not be returned. They will be awarded to playoff participants. The distribution of winnings will be determined by the Commissioner with approval from the Fantasy Board of Governors.

- B. If an individual NFL game is cancelled for any reason, it will be treated as a bye week for the team involved for the purposes of the league.
- C. If an individual NFL game is postponed and thus moved from one week of the NFL season to a different week of the season, league owners must deal with the consequences of move. No special provisions will be made to compensate teams for the movement of the game or change in bye week.
- D. If an NFL season is cancelled following the start of the PREFARD, the PREFARD and initial roster selection will be completed regardless of when the NFL season is officially cancelled.
 - 1. If no games are played, initial rosters will become final rosters for that season and carried over to the following season.
 - 2. If games are played, but a viable ESFFL season is not completed, then rosters at the completion of the last Free Agent Period will become final rosters for the following season.
 - 3. In either of the two above cases, all entry fees and any free agent fees collected will be returned to team owners. If team owners prefer to carry over their entry fees to the next season they may do so at their own discretion.
- E. Any postponements, cancellations, or modifications to the NFL schedule not covered in this section of the ESFFL Rulebook will be addressed when and as necessary by the Commissioner with any required changes approved by the Fantasy Board of Governors.

Section 9 – The Finer Points

- A. Keep bye weeks in mind when selecting your roster. Having too many players with the same bye week can adversely affect your team that week.
- B. The Fantasy Bowl Champion will receive 50% of the final pot. The remainder of the pot will be divided among the other Johnson Cup Playoff Participants, with division winners given a preferentially larger share than wild card qualifiers. The exact distribution will be decided at the discretion of the Commissioner.
- C. Trading is not allowed.
- D. The position a player is listed at on the original salary list is the only position you can play that player at during the season, even if they play other positions on the field. Players not listed on the original salary sheet can be played at the position they most frequently play. Once the determination of their position is made by the Commissioner, that is the only position they can be played at for the remainder of the season.
- E. It is illegal and unethical to knowingly bend or break any rules to your team's advantage.
- F. The Anti-Tanking Rule: It is against the rules for a team owner to adjust their roster in an attempt to purposely lose games or lower their weekly score.

1. It is not illegal to add injured or other inactive players for the purposes of having them on your final roster as long as you have adequate healthy players at each scoring position with a reasonable chance to score points and thus keep your team competitive.
 2. Team owners are not expected to incur the cost of free agent moves to improve their teams and team owners will not be penalized for inactivity. Team owners will be penalized for making moves, including moves between the Taxi Squad and Active Roster, which could be viewed as clear attempts to reduce their weekly score.
 3. Violations of Rule 9F will be addressed as follows:
 - a. Any suspected violation of the rule should be reported to the Commissioner and/or Fantasy Board of Governors.
 - b. The Fantasy Governors will determine if a violation has occurred. Three confirming votes amongst governors is required to corroborate a violation.
 - c. For a confirmed violation, the offending franchise will be relegated in the following seasons PREFARD. The franchise's position in the PREFARD will be dropped 5 spots or to the lowest position among non-Johnson Cup Playoff teams, whichever position is lower.
 - d. If a team is found to be in violation Rule 9F again in a future season, they will be removed from the league.
- G. No player in high school or college is eligible for ESFFL rosters.
- H. The intent of the league is to provide a fun and entertaining means of competition among fellow football fans. Friendly banter is encouraged provided league members maintain a respect for their fellow competitors and the league.

Section 10 – Seasons beyond 2022

- A. Changes for the 2023 season:
1. Teams will be eligible to reserve 9 or 10 players from their 2022 final roster. Teams reserving 9 players will receive one additional pick at the end of the PREFARD. The additional pick cannot be a Reserved List Player reserved by more than 2 teams.
 2. Initial roster size will increase to 20 players.
 3. The salary cap for initial rosters will again increase to account for the additional roster spots.
 4. The size of the seasonal roster will increase to 22 total players. Of this, 18 players will be considered active and eligible to score in a given week and 4 players will fill Taxi Squad positions.
- B. Changes for the 2024 season:
1. Teams will be eligible to reserve 10 or 11 players from their 2023 final roster. Teams reserving 10 players will receive one additional pick at the end of the PREFARD. The additional pick cannot be a Reserved List Player reserved by more than 2 teams.
 2. Initial roster size will remain 20 players.

3. The salary cap will be adjusted to account for one less player being added during Initial Roster selection.
 4. The size of the seasonal roster will remain 22 total players. The Active Roster will remain 18 players with 4 Taxi Squad positions.
- C. The above rules could be modified by the Fantasy Board of Governors based on the opinion of league members and potential outcomes of the 2022 season.
